Daily Dirt!

» Butterfly Effect

After the discovery of Butterfly jewellery, my life will never be the same!

Created by mother and daughter duo Mandy and Charlotte in London 2004, Butterfly is fast becoming the UK's hottest jeweller brand with delicate chains and earrings in sterling silver Swarovski crystals, semi precious stones, and elegant charm surely worthy of even my most eclectic dressing table.

What's my favorite piece of the collection you ask? Well if I must choose, it would be this stunning, cuff style bracelet with two strands of glimmering Swarovski crystals, offset by a sparkling central faceted crystal. It comes in both silver and bronze...no surprise I've got both.

Price: £120.00

Mimi's Notes

» Coach

Although more popular in America, Coach has set a name for itself with high quality and trendy leather accessories. Their merchandise includes handbags, wristlets, shoes, clothes, and even adorable iPod covers. Coach was first announced in 1941, when six artisans in Manhattan, New York began to work on exceptional leather goods using the skills passed on from previous generations. They modelled the first Coach bag on a baseball glove because it possessed such recognizable stitching with a flexible use and tan colour.
